

ACADEMIC STANDING, PROGRESSION AND DISMISSAL POLICY: POSTGRADUATE

1. Good academic standing for postgraduate students is defined as a cumulative GPA of at least 2.000 (c) in at least 8 US/40 UK credits earned during the most recent semester.
2. At the end of any semester, fulltime degree-seeking postgraduates and visiting students for more than one semester who have attained a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of less than 2.000 will be identified by the Academic Progress Committee and be advised that they have been placed on academic probation for the next semester.
3. Students on academic probation will not be allowed to progress to the Internship or Thesis courses.
4. Courses taken in the summer sessions will not result in the lifting of probationary status. Postgraduates on academic probation achieving a cumulative GPA of 2.000 or above in a summer session will remain on academic probation in the following semester until they have demonstrated sustained improvement and progression over a full semester.
5. Failure to raise the GPA to 2.000 by the end of a second full semester will normally result in dismissal from the University for failure to progress academically.
6. Postgraduates re-admitted to the University on academic probation are treated as if their first semester of attendance is their first semester on academic probation.
7. Full-time postgraduates who do not earn 8 US credits over the two most recent semesters (including a semester of no study when not approved for a Leave of Absence) are at risk of academic dismissal.
8. Dismissal decisions are made each full semester, at the University Examination Board, upon the recommendation of the Academic Progress Committee.
9. Students who are academically dismissed from the University have the right to appeal the decision to the Office of the Provost within five working days of receiving the decision via email.
10. Students in the UK on a Tier 4 visa risk withdrawal of their right to remain if they fail to make acceptable academic progress. The University is obliged to report any student who is dismissed from the University and who is in the UK on a student visa, to UK Visas and Immigration (UKVI). Reporting is done after the time period for initiating the appeals process to the Office of the Provost has expired, or after an unsuccessful appeal.
11. Students dismissed from the University on academic grounds are not normally permitted to reapply for admission.
