Course Description:

This course is designed to examine the progression in brand theory and practice; according to several schools of thought, that draw from supporting social sciences disciplines - in order to master a set of comprehensive brand management toolkits.

Course material will blend concepts, theories, media, case studies, and contemporary examples in order to encourage critical thinking and develop practical insight. In addition, students will be encouraged to problem solve creatively - through practical exercises and in response to briefs. There will be scope to attempt literary and cultural critiques: evaluating existing brands; assessing the viability of creating new brands; and develop brand stories. In light of this, the course attempts to offer a balance between the arts and sciences – with the aim of delivering real value to practitioners of all levels.
