Course Description:

This course explores the history of ‘the beautiful game’ from the football’s origins in mid nineteenth-century Britain to its contemporary status as global sporting phenomena. Through a focus on the historical forces that shape footballing culture, students are encouraged to examine how the shift from amateurism to professionalism radically transformed ideas of identity, belonging, and community commonly associated with the sport. The course situates the impact of these changes within wider historical contexts to promote critical evaluation of football’s role in cultural, social and political life in the twentieth century. Students will also examine football’s contemporaneous history by analysing the sport’s intersections with postcolonial contexts, popular media discourse, and the socio-economics of globalisation.
