Course Description:

This course concentrates on developing the student's visual intelligence via photography. Technically, students will learn to use digital SLR cameras and the basic workflow using Adobe CC. By looking at the work of a range of artists, students will be introduced to some of the theories that underpin photographic practice and consider photography's place and role in contemporary culture. Throughout the course students make images which finally result in an edited portfolio of photographic images.

Prerequisites:

None

Aims and Objectives:

Aims and objectives of the course include the following:

- understanding light using the digital SLR camera effectively
- understanding various image components
- image workflow and editing using Adobe Creative Cloud
- becoming aware of major current issues in photography

Students are expected to understand the underlying technical theory and application of the photographic process. Making connections between the work of other artists and the images the student is producing is important to the development of the student's ability to critically analyse his/her and fellow student's work. Students are expected to do research, which reflects their developing understandings of the importance of visual language and the thinking process.
